GRAPHICS.
Mrs. Leech for Millinery.
Gillman & Co., are agents for the new washer exhibited on the streets this week.

Subjects in the Baptist church Sunday—Morning, "Joy in Heaven over Repenting Sinners." Evening, "Little Sins."

The members of the Epworth Endeavor, gave a very pleasant social at the home of Miss Pearl Johnson last Friday evening.

The University Association will meet by invitation at the home of Mrs. Fout next Tuesday evening. The members are all earnestly requested to be present at this meeting.

The concert given by Misses Stafford and Stringer Tuesday evening for the benefit of the new Baptist church was a splendid performance from the opening number to the close. The proceeds were about $27.

The regular Holiness service at the Mercantile College each Sunday afternoon has been discontinued until the third Sunday in August, on account of the Holiness camp meeting now in progress at College Mound.

Eld. U. M. Browder, of Geensburg, Ind., is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Gene D. Thomas. He came to St. Louis as a delegate to the Populist convention, and after its turbulent scenes were over came on to Kirksville for a rest. He is a staunch Middle-of-the-Road man and will speak in the park Saturday afternoon.

For steady, almost unbearable heat this week easily takes the prize. Tuesday, however, cut-did any other day. The last time a reporter had the courage to look at the mercury it registered 95, and perspiring, wilted humanity will testify that it kept a-registering all night long. The weather is fine for grass and corn, but a breeze with just a touch of blizzard in it would be very acceptable for a few hours.

The Prohibitionists of Adair county will hold a county convention in Kirksville Tuesday, August 11 at 10 o'clock a. m. to organize the party in the county and to transact such other business as will advance the interests of the party. It is expected that all who are in sympathy with the movement will be present. The ladies of the W. C. T. U. are especially invited to attend. Hon. H. P. Faris, prohibition nominee for Governor, will be present and address the convention.

The bright and fascinating comedy, "Rebecca's Triumph," presented at the Opera House Thursday evening of last week, attracted a large audience notwithstanding the furious rain storm that began before 8 o'clock. The characters were all young ladies associated with the Daughters of Rebecca, and the very successful presentation of the play has elicited praise from the theater going public not usually accorded home talent. Special mention is due Miss Deborah Wittmer, as Meg, Mrs. Allie Edmondson, as Gyp, Mattie Sholly as Katie Conner, Grace Sands as Carissa Cordman, Lela Gates as Helen Rokeman and Bessie Duffield as Rebecca. The play was directed by Prof. Dalton.

A Bryan club was organized in Kirksville Monday night with 87 members. W. E. Noonan was made president. The club was addressed by Mr. Noonan and Mr. May an ex-Greenbacker, who recently located here from Illinois. The club hopes to have a hundred members on the roll in a short time.

T. J. Beltz, an editor, lawyer, Greenbacker, and all round revolutionary politician addressed the people in the park Tuesday afternoon and evening. He proposes when his system is adopted to give every idle man work at three dollars a day and have two Sundays in each week, merely as days for loafing. Later we suppose he will make it the law to have bolognas hang on the fence. At the close of each harangue he took up a collection to defray his hotel expenses.

Sherman Boone, of Gibbs, was struck by an engine at Mendon one day last week, and seriously injured. He had just stepped from the train which was on the siding, and started to the depot when the east bound train passed. The train was upon him before he knew it, and as he sprang upon the platform the pilot struck him throwing him a distance of twenty feet. His right foot was badly mashed, and the surgeon found it necessary to amputate the big toe. He is now at home, and is getting along nicely.

Mr. Frank Buckingham, foreman of the Kirksville Journal, who in company with his wife was visiting his father-in-law, Mr. James Power, at Pleasant Retreat, this county, called to see us Monday. He related a little experience through which he had passed at about 8 o'clock that morning, that was not at all pleasant. He, together with Mr. Power and two other gentlemen were quietly sitting on a porch watching an approaching cloud, and listening to an occasional peal of thunder, when an electric current struck a tree within about six feet of the porch where the quartette was sitting, knocking Mr. Buckingham senseless for a few moments. The other three gentlemen were much less disturbed, yet were somewhat "shocked" at the familiarity of the lightning. This indeed, was a close call, as the lightning, had not previously sent any "cards," and there was no "Power" on earth or the porch either that could have stopped it. Mr. B. was complaining of still feeling very peculiar, and to say the least, very much "electrified" over the matter. Mr. Buckingham and wife returned home Tuesday and no doubt were "shockingly" impressed with Scotland county—Messenger, (Memphis.)

One of the shrewdest moves ever made in a political convention was that made by Chauncey L. Filley at Springfield last week. Car load after car load of Filley killers had been taken to Springfield on Kereps passes. In fact when Filley killers wanted to go there were passes to burn. In Kirksville they were so plentiful that Democrats took advantage of the Kereps liberality and joined the Filley killing crowd. The Filley killers had all been instructed to vote against anything that Filley wanted, and by so doing they would down "de ole man." When it came to vote for Governor, all were watching Filley. Calhoun, Lewis, Davis and Walbridge were in the ring. The Bittinger-Warner-Kereps crowd wanted to nominate somebody that Filley did not want. Filley watched his opportunity and when the fifth ballot came, the St. Louis vote was challenged. Mr. Filley rose and asked how he had been recorded as voting. The Secretary replied that he had been recorded as voting for Lewis. Mr. Filley then announced that he wanted to be recorded as voting for Webster Davis. The effect of the announcement was magical. The Filley killers fell over each other in frantic efforts to vote for Lewis because they thought "de ole man" was "agin" him. General Guitart was the only Filley killer that saw through the strategy, and he tried to stay the stampede to Lewis by casting the votes of two counties for Webster Davis. But it was too late. Lewis was nominated and the asstn Filley killers had voted for the very candidate "de ole man" wanted nominated.

Something new in the way of a washing machine has divided the street interests this week, usually drawing a larger, and more attentive crowd than the political speakers which have held forth in the park, showing that the people are still more interested in keeping clean than they are in listening to revolutionary ideas. The machine washes anything from a $5 bill to a printer's apron, and does it quickly and without injury to the fabric. The GRAPHIC furnishes the printer's apron for the supreme test of the machine, but where the bill was obtained for the exhibition could not be learned. It was probably saved over from the good times preceeding the present administration.

Last Friday the Secretary of State chartered the Omaha, Kansas City & Eastern Railroad Co.; capital stock, $1,500,000; incorporators—John Lowber Welsh, Philadelphia, Pa.; Theodore Gilman, Jr., Yonkers, N. Y., and A. E. Stillwell, E. L. Martin, J. J. Cairnes, J. T. Nollins and C. Bailey, Kansas City. The object is to build and operate a railroad from Pattonsburg, in Daviess county, through the counties of Daviess and Harrison to Trenton, in Grundy county, a distance of thirty-four miles, and to buy and operate the Quincy, Omaha & St. Louis Railroad from Quincy, Ill., to Trenton, and the Omaha & St. Louis Railroad from Omaha, Neb., to Pattonsburg, Mo., so as to have a continuous railroad from a point on the Missouri river to a competitive point on the Mississippi river.

Mrs. J. B. Foraker, wife of ex-Governor Foraker, of Ohio, is in Kirksville having her son treated at the Still Infirmary. Monday evening the McKinley club, accompanied by many ladies and gentlemen to the number of 400, formed a procession on the public square, and headed by the cornet band, marched to the Still Hotel where Mrs. Foraker is stopping. Hon. S. M. Pickler in behalf of the McKinley club welcomed the wife of the distinguished Ohioan to Kirksville and through her made an urgent request to her husband to visit Kirksville and address the people. After Mrs. Foraker's response in which she promised to use her best efforts to secure a visit from Mr. Foraker, there were addresses by Hon. A. T. Seaber and Dr. A. T. Still, followed by a general introduction of the visitors to the distinguished guest.
